MILLENNIALISM. THE DIVISION AMONG CHRISTIANS

In the Name of Jesus Christ, Our Father Who Is in Heaven, to all the children of God, Peace and Health.

God so loved the world that He gave us His Son, so that everyone who believes in Him may not perish but have eternal life.

The Son of God so loved mankind that He offered Himself, of His own accord, for our salvation.

The Acts bear witness to the unity between God the Father and God the Son. The division among Christians bears witness to the evil sowing prophesied by the Son of God—a sowing that would occur at a time known only to God the Father. A date that, out of love for His Son, God revealed to us in the Epilogue of His Book, the Book of Revelation.

First, because Satan has been chained, we must see with the eyes of our spirit of understanding the existence of Death as an uncreated force whose presence on Earth—now that Satan has been removed from the world—warns us against the notion that once Satan is removed from the history of our world, there will be nothing but glory and celebration.

God never lies. “I am the Truth.” There is no room for lies in His Being. His Revelation warned all the bishops of the Date on which Satan would be released from his Prison and cast down to Earth, so that we might all see that the Evil One’s hatred for the Holy Spirit of the Law is eternal. He chose to be a prince in Hell rather than a citizen in the Kingdom of the Son of God.

And yet, even though the bishops possessed their Lord’s prophecy regarding the Evil One’s sowing of tares, and the Revelation of God the Son concerning the date of Satan’s release from the prison where he had been chained for a thousand years following the Resurrection of Jesus Christ, the bishops refused to give it credence and invented a term: millenarianism. Under this term, they silenced at its core any criticism of the hunger and thirst for power and wealth that found fertile ground in the Italian papal families.

We are all familiar with the criminal exploits of those families and their papal champions throughout the 10th century.

It is true that the Schism of 1054 smelled more like the fall of a rotten fruit than the intervention of a hidden god. From the perspective of the Italian imperial families, the admission that Satan was not the cause of the corruption of the bishops of the ninth and tenth centuries left everyone in limbo.

Now, the justification of crimes against the canons of the Church points to the power of the Devil.

Always!

And what of Revelation?

The prophecy of the Parable of the Weeds reveals to us the nature of the Evil Sowing: the division of the churches.

It is true that, following the scandal of the 10th century in Papal Italy, the East-West Schism obscured from view Satan's liberation and the beginning of the Evil Sowing. But to presume to interpret the Word of God in order to legitimize corruption—what is this? Considering that God's judgment cannot be bought or sold: is that "Depart from me, you who practice lawlessness" an unjust judgment?

The ultimate goal of the prince of Hell is the destruction of all life on Earth. The ultimate goal of his mother, Death, is the destruction of all life in the Cosmos. The war waged by Death and his prince is against the Holy Spirit who dwells in God, the Father and the Son.

Now it is up to us, the children of God, to become fully aware of the Power of our Universal Unity in order to uproot the Evil Weed of Division among Christians, our nations, and our churches.

THE GRAVITY OF DIVISION

The division among churches and Christians is a most serious act of disobedience and contempt toward the Son's prayer to the Father:

"But I do not pray only for these, but also for all who will believe in me through their word, so that they may all be one, just as you, Father, are in me and I am in you, so that they also may be in us, and the world may believe that you have sent me."

Division among Christians is a contempt for our Creator; it is a challenge to God the Father to fulfill His Son's desire. This is a contempt that came from Satan, was fueled by Death, and leads to Hell. With unity shattered, the word of Christians began to lose all value. With value lost and unity shattered, religious wars ignited the fire that consumed the 20th century.

But never mind the details. Let the one who is without sin cast the first stone. Unity is the Body in which the Creator's spirit lives to continue doing His Work: the salvation of all the nations of the Earth.

God has never abandoned the human race. The creation of man in the image and likeness of God is not yet complete. It is within Unity that the Infinite Intelligence of our Creator opens itself to its living manifestation in the river of life flowing through the generations. What being, whether of Earth or Heaven, can comprehend with its mind the Magnificence of the Tree of Divine Intelligence? The very idea of trying to correct God is a sign of intellectual pathology.

Logic comes to our aid: The more open the Universal Christian Unity is, the more extensive and profound will be the growth of our intelligence in the Sciences of Life. Born in His image and likeness, just as the Son has everything in the Father, we have everything in the Son, Our Father “ ” who is in Heaven. In this sense, the division among Christians stands in opposition to the future of the human race.

It is the duty of all God’s children to combat the causes of division, on the one hand; and on the other, to make Divine Law the source of the code of social laws that nourish the body of our civilization. We are human beings, not gods!! The Law applies to all human beings, without exception. Any body of laws that places an ideological group above the Law—whether on the grounds of state secrecy, political immunity, or the like—such bodies of laws are promoters of crime.

The Doctrine of the Kingdom of Heaven is not a utopian body of doctrine serving as a spiritual reference point without any social connection. In this context, anti-Christianity refers to a legislative framework that rejects Divine Law as its source. When “lying, bearing false witness, committing adultery, killing—whether mentally or physically—and honoring one’s parents…” become commonplace, a society is ultimately set on destroying the Christian spirit from the face of the Earth. And what keeps mankind and its nations alive if not the existence of Christians? The Covenant between God and mankind, sealed with the Blood of Jesus Christ and His Disciples, has no expiration date. What does have an expiration date is the anti-Christianity of scientific atheism. For the creation of man in the image of God was set aside for a time, only to be fully restored once that time has passed. Or is not the inheritance of Christ’s descendants ours?: “Your descendants will take possession of the gates of their enemies.”

In Universal Christian Unity, the invincibility of the Head of Mankind—Jesus Christ, Our Father in Heaven—is realized within us for the salvation of all.

To be a child of God and not act as a citizen of His Kingdom in this world is to turn one’s back on God and on humanity. The duty of all Christians in the world is to turn their backs on those who sow the evil weeds of division, to close the doors of the past, and to live in the present while looking toward the future through the eyes of our Creator.

Does God conceive of failure? Can God be defeated? Every child of God must act from a place of victory, build the future from a place of victory, work in the service of our Creator Father by combating the darkness inherited from the 20th century, and guide the 21st century into the 22nd and beyond, for no one knows when the Event of the Encounter with the Son of Man will take place. We only want the Son of Man to find faith on Earth when that Day comes.

Freeing our civilization from the division among churches is essential to paving the way for present and future generations upon whom Divine Omniscience will shower its Wisdom.

WHAT IS TRUTH?

Questions are superfluous when the Answer is known.

Have we created a State only to be its slaves?

Have we endowed it with power to defend us from the fruit of the Forbidden Tree—war—and is this armed power being used by a government to bring us to our knees before laws that incite fratricide?

Must we view the future through the eyes of one who sets himself up in the image and likeness of that Godoy: the Absolute Minister?

Must we think with someone else's mind and, through that mind, discern what is true and what is false?

Does the image of our Creator, the Wonderful God, live within us, or does the image of an envious being live within us—one who wants everything, absolutely everything, including our thoughts and our will?

Aristotle said that happiness lies in ignorance. God says that ignorance is the back door through which the thief enters, whether to steal our soul or to steal our wallet.

It is no coincidence that all aspiring dictators and de facto dictators make it their absolute priority to cultivate ignorance, to stifle intelligence, to blind the eyes with which we see reality, and to silence thought through the "Ministry of Truth": television, newspapers, social media... and when these means fail, the barrel of a gun speaks.

What is important, vital, and an absolute priority for a government that rules by decree is to keep the entire population in ignorance by trampling on the Law of Transparency and Control of the Administration—an administration entrusted by the nation to maintain civil peace, family prosperity, and the happiness of all citizens, heirs to a nation built over centuries by our forefathers.

We are social beings by nature. We are so because Social Nature is the backbone of the Heart and Mind of our Creator. Created in His image and likeness, we have inherited His Social Nature from the Creator. So how can we understand that Justice has a Universal Spirit at its core when it is left in the hands of ideological groups driven by animalistic passions!!

But we know that a justice system driven by the passion for power and wealth is destined to succumb to corruption. Does the Power of the Creator of the Universe bear any resemblance whatsoever to that Power which is bought and sold, conquered and lost? One need only open His Book to see the Personality of our Creator, to see in His Words His Personal Code of Justice, and His Devotion to the Universal Good.

God has certainly set the bar very high for us—so high that we find ourselves challenged by a world ruled by the Judas of the moment, an apostle of the worship of wealth and power, for whom Truth is a chimera and the Lie is the spark of life. That spark with which the history of the forest of nations has been set ablaze time and again. Hence the question:

Do donkeys fly? Why, then, do all the fools gaze at the clouds while the wolves plunder their wallets?

It is the miracle of ideologies. An ideology does not want intelligent men looking toward the future through the eyes of the Creator of the human race; the beginning and end of every ideology is to make man a slave. The following question is not foolish: When a body is under the command of another's mind, is that body that of a beast of burden or that of a free man?

Knowing this truth, God has chosen to give us as our Head—nourished by the Wisdom of His Father—this Almighty and Incorruptible Son, the Head of all God's children. In adoration of this Answer, the Holy Spirit exclaimed: “The Head of Man is Christ, and the Head of Christ is God.”

I could not express it better; I would not dare to surpass His exclamation of adoration for the indestructible and eternal unity between the Father and the Son, from whose unity it was heard in Heaven: “LET US MAKE Man in our image and likeness”; which is why the Holy Spirit wrote:

“The Word was with God, and the Word became Man”: so that every man might see in JESUS CHRIST the Prototype in whose image and likeness God conceived Man.

How could this Divine Prototype of Man not be the enemy to be destroyed by every government that derives the origin of its power from lies!!

How can there be incorruptible judges when a government behaves like a malignant virus, injecting its ideological structure into the body of justice, thereby transforming the Palace of Justice into a brothel whose doorman is the State!!

The Future exists and lives in the Eyes of Our Creator and Our Father Who Is in Heaven. This Future has nothing to do with the image of ideology seared into the minds of the people by “Cavemen” whose Thought and Power have their Origin in the Retro Neo-Paleolithic Culture of stone worship. They call them precious stones; stones they were, stones they will be, and stones they are. What does the Power of the Creator have to do with these ideological stones with which the new Cain buys and sells nations!

The Earth belongs to God; it is up to His children to manage its natural resources, which their Creator has made available to serve all the families of the nations. “I give you everything the Earth produces for food,” God said to humankind. Then Cain came and stole everything from his brother.

Having set aside the Cultivation of Intelligence, God has chosen to make humankind the most fertile natural resource—the one that nourishes everything—by giving us His Son as our Head, to whom belongs all that His Father has, thus opening the Door to the Life Sciences for us, whose Fruit enlivens our minds to cultivate the two most wonderful plants we can grow: Peace and Health. Or is there still anyone who believes that when God set His son Adam to cultivate the Earth, He meant planting tomatoes and peppers?

Thus, with the Door of Wisdom open and the Treasure of Divine Omniscience at our service to secure Victory over Death and its fruit—War, the mother of all diseases and evils in the world—why should we remain in the Pride of the serpent, which, lacking prey, devours its own flesh while waiting for its next victim to appear?

The Universe belongs to Our Father who is in Heaven—and yet do we allow the Enemy of Our House to storm our property and rob us of what belongs to us: Peace and Health? What kind of son is one who watches his father’s house being plundered and remains impassive, as if watching a house that is not his own being destroyed? Will that father not see his own son as an enemy? Will he forgive his son’s offense, or will he condemn him for the crime of failing to defend his home—thus demonstrating, through his passivity, his alliance with his father’s enemy?

Where is the fear of defeat? Where does the terror of death dwell?

Children of God, descendants of the everlasting marriage of the Lord of Heaven and Earth with the Holy Mother Catholic Church, our inheritance is invincibility over the enemies of our fathers: “Your children shall take possession of the gates of their enemies.”

The right to enjoy the inheritance comes with the will of the one who bequeaths his property. But with every inheritance comes the duty to be worthy of it: to preserve it, cultivate it, make it grow, and keep the spirit of the Testator alive in His House until the end of time—for God alone knows the hour of the encounter between the fullness of the nations and the Son of Man, and it is the duty of all the children of God to ensure that the Christian faith lives on in that Supreme Hour.

The Lie is fought with the Truth. “I AM THE TRUTH.” Words abound. But actions are lacking. Against the enemy who comes to destroy the house and would rather set it ablaze than abandon what envy has sown in his mind, it is the Duty of the Heirs to invoke Unity in the Spirit of the Founder of the House and command the enemy to withdraw or be cast into prison as one banished from life.

It is up to the Creator of the Universe to write the Future of His Creation. If the Past of our world was the Future that God conceived in the Beginning, this is a question whose Answer lies on the lips of the Bride of the Lord, Our Mother, outside whose womb there is no child of God. To Her we entrust everything concerning the Fall, Redemption, and Salvation of the Human Race, in obedience and fidelity to the Doctrine bequeathed to Her by her Spouse, Our Father who is in Heaven.

Let no one be confused. There is no living salvation outside the bosom of the Catholic Church. For every person will be judged by their deeds, words, and thoughts, but whoever is born of Her is not judged but enters the Paradise of Eternal Life. “Lord, Lord, did we not perform many miracles in your name?” those who hate the Bride of that Lord whom they invoke will say to Him. “Depart from me, you who practice lawlessness,” that Lord will reply.

Why would anyone prefer to be judged by their deeds rather than freely pass through the Gate of Eternal Life?

Pride is the malignant cancer of the soul.

Racial Pride, as if the rest of us were not human beings.

The Pride of Science, as if the rest of us were fools.

Pride in wealth, as if there were any greater wealth than being a child of God.

Pride in refusing even God’s salvation for free.

Pride is the cause of the corruption of those who, hired to serve, rise up as the legitimate masters of the nation that hired them to manage its natural and human resources.

The servant becomes the master; the owner becomes the slave. This—and nothing more than this—is corruption.

Dignity versus Pride. This is the present state of the forces at work in the world: the Neo-Paleolithic Homo sapiens, armed to the teeth with stones r nuclear weapons, wants to bring the Christian Homo sapiens—the child of God—to his knees before Satan.

For the Disciple, the Lesson of his Master is glory: “Get behind me, Satan.” And go to Hell.

UNIVERSAL BROTHERHOOD

The future of Creation belongs to the Creator. Any attempt to cause a deviation from God’s Plan—as in the case of Satan—provokes a direct and proportionate response commensurate with the harm caused to a people in a state of growth. It is therefore through the eyes of the Creator of Life—made in His image and likeness, eternal life, intelligent life, life animated by a creative spirit—that all Citizens of His World see the Future as History in motion toward the Ages and their epochs.

Voluntary action transforms us into participants in Creation; the Word says it all: “Be fruitful and multiply....” Procreation is an act of Living Participation in the Creation of World History. With this Participation comes the Duty to raise generations in the Spirit of Man in the image and likeness of the Spirit of God, whose Incarnation we see in the Gospel of the Holy Spirit.

So, since we all have the same Creator and together form a Single Universal Body—Mankind—whose Head is the Son of God: how can it be conceivable that the forces of the immune system would refrain from intervening in the wounds and illnesses suffered by one of its members or organs? Since the Fullness of the Nations is a Universal Body formed by the families of all peoples, how can a brother be forced to stand by and not come to the aid of his brother, who is enslaved and martyred by international criminal groups whose goal is the destruction of Universal Brotherhood!

The State of the Kingdom of God exists to uphold this Universal Brotherhood among all the Peoples of Creation. Regardless of its Space and Time of Origin—Past, Present, and Future—the Divine State has as its Supreme Duty to maintain and nurture Universal Brotherhood among Peoples whose Origin, transcending the notion of Space and Time, resides in the Trunk of the Tree of the Creation of Life in the image and likeness of God, Creator of all Peoples and Father of the King, Jesus Christ.

Wisdom speaks: “Create according to the Model shown to you.” This applies both to the Matter of the Temple and to the matter of the Creation of the State.

Having the Model of the Divine State, whose Government encompasses all the Nations of the Kingdom of Eternal Life, whose Glory is based on Universal Brotherhood—and since it is the King’s Duty to prevent all War, to rise up and stand between Cain and Abel before the Crime is committed— how can we establish peace among our people by neglecting the Divine Duty that, through our adoption as children of God, we have inherited! Who but the enemies of Universal Brotherhood—merchants of death, in whom the image and likeness of Satan dwells—can establish international law upon the absolute negation of brotherhood among all the nations of the Earth?

We understand that criminals defend criminals, that accomplices to genocide, dictatorships, wars, and pandemics defend one another. They weep for a dictator and mock the peoples upon whose necks they plant their boots.

Everyone defends their own kind. We understand that.

And we understand that establishing international law regarding the refusal to provide aid to a dictator, a perpetrator of genocide, a terrorist group, or an international or national criminal organization exposes their accomplices, their allies, and those involved in the various forms of crimes against humanity that all families on Earth have suffered firsthand over the past millennia

To be scandalized by the execution of a criminal against humanity and yet remain silent while enjoying his generous friendship during the golden age of his boundless evil—we understand—is the behavior of wretched serpents, the closest thing to the filthy, venomous beast that once conceived the malignant, schizoid plan to sit on the Throne of the Son of God, to be equal to the Son of God.

Children of God, Citizens of His Kingdom on Earth, Homo sapiens Christianus, created in the image and likeness of God, we have inherited the Duty to establish on Earth the State of the Brotherhood of the Fullness of Nations in accordance with the Model shown to us in JESUS CHRIST, the Everlasting Universal King, whose jurisdiction integrates each and every people of Creation into His government.

To establish, between God and the peoples of His Kingdom, a law that strips the King of Eternity of His power over the governments of nations—abolishing His legitimacy to intervene in states and their international relations, and turning the throne of the King of Eternity into a powerless crown—was the force that led a son of God to declare war on his own Creator. Is it necessary to diagnose the nature of his criminal, suicidal pathology?

That evil spirit, which sought to wrest from its Creator the legitimate power to rise up among brotherly peoples—a goal that God reveals to us in Cain and Abel, read and witnessed by all the peoples of Heaven, and the cause and origin of our world's tragedy—is the evil source from which arose the Law of the Abolition of Universal Brotherhood that gave rise to the UN, the very reason for its creation.

Is it not a petty hypocrisy that the very same states that are scandalized by the fall of an abominable dictator are the very same states that find themselves at war with a neighboring nation without a casus belli to justify their vile crime?

Hypocrisy is one thing. Boundless evil, complicity through silence in the face of their idol's crimes, and clamor in defense of their fallen hero—that is something else entirely.

Let no one be afraid; all the towers will fall, along with their idols, their heroes—all enemies of Universal Brotherhood, the last representatives of the species Homo Sapiens Fratricida.

They'll make a lot of noise; when a snake is beheaded, its tail lashes out—the last refuge of the madness of the lost head, its glory its ruin.

ISRAEL

For it is irrational to condemn children for the crimes of their fathers, as Moses himself wrote; why did the fleshly children of Adam and Eve bear the full weight of their parents' transgression? Was Job not right to lament having been abandoned by the God whom he loved above all things? And did Job not clasp his hands to his mouth once he heard God?

For to hear God is to see Him, and to see Him is to know Him.

Was not the entire world condemned to be devoured by the fires of hell in a war to the death—everyone against everyone—because of the disobedience of the Jews' earthly parents? Who was supposed to pay for their parents' crime... the victims of that crime against humanity? If the Jews had known the God of Moses, would they have understood why they were chosen? But of course, if they had known the God of Moses, they would never, ever have laid a finger on the Messiah—that son of Adam against whose arm Satan's head would be dashed. Or is there still any people who thinks that, had the SUPERNATURAL PHENOMENON JESUS CHRIST lived, He would have acted differently?

It wouldn't have mattered which people had been granted the lot of Israel; that people would have risen up against JESUS CHRIST, and their entire nation would have been wiped from the face of the Earth. Where is that Roman Empire, that Great Babylon that traded with all the kings of the Earth?

The tragedy of the Holocaust had its origin in the sentence that the Powers of the Temple in Jerusalem pronounced upon their own children: "May their blood fall upon the heads of our children." They condemned their own children to exile and extermination. This evil was foreseen by God and communicated to His prophets. For the exile and destruction of their nation—with or without Jesus Christ—would sooner or later have occurred in response to Rome's reaction to the cry for independence funded by all the Jews of the Empire. The wickedness of the Temple Saints became satanic when they extended the punishment for their crime to their children. To the exile and destruction of their nation, they added the extermination of their children. Did not the God of Israel know the wickedness of the sons of Aaron? Was it not Aaron himself who crawled at the feet of the Serpent—under whose soles his parents, Adam and Eve, were crushed—creating a golden calf, thereby repaying his brother Moses with cowardice and betrayal? In that cowardice lay the wickedness that brought the Seleucid "Final Solution" upon the people.

How could God not have mercy on the children of Adam and Eve!

So that the nations might step aside and let Israel cross the new Red Sea, before Exile and Extermination hung over the heads of the children of Aaron, the Day of Return to the Lost Homeland was announced—so that whoever opposes the Restoration of Israel declares war on his God and our God. Would not the destruction of Israel—after having failed to exterminate its people in the furnaces of World War II—be a victory for Satan over our God? Do the Muslim nations lack the intelligence to understand that God does not want the destruction of any nation, but that if He had to choose between the New Israel and the Islamic world, the latter would be wiped from the face of the Earth?

"YOU SHALL NOT TEMPT GOD" is not advice; it is a warning, a call to wisdom. The Day of Freedom has arrived. The time of condemnation—to which your parents condemned you for doing to JESUS CHRIST what God would do to anyone who touches a single hair of the children of Israel—has come to an end. The Door of Freedom and your accession to the Covenant of the Fullness of the Nations with the God of Israel, signed by JESUS CHRIST, is on the table. It is the duty of all Christians on Earth to open their nations to the State of Israel and to combat the enemies of the people of Israel in obedience to the Law of Universal Brotherhood among all the nations of the Kingdom of Eternal Life: Whoever harms a child of God declares war against the entire House of God.

PART TWO .

FROM THE OTHER SIDE OF THE MIRROR

1. THE CASE OF THE LEPROSY SUFFERER

The leper rises this morning, as he has every morning for many years, far from the gaze of others, hidden in the distance, his skin covered in dark, discarded rags, his soul abandoned in darkness; he lives through the hell of perfect solitude, his heart bursts, his knees buckle; he has heard talk of a Son of God who bestows miracles without regard for whom He helps. People talk a lot; desperation weaves threads of reasoning suited exclusively for hearts starving for healing, souls shattered by the icy hammers of rejection. The Leper rises, his heart expressing his deepest desire: “If you were to meet God face to face, what would you ask of Him?”

The leper runs off, asking, “Where is the Son of David?” The leper makes his way through a forest of looks of revulsion. Finally, he reaches his destination. They try to block his path, but everyone knows Jesus. They don’t need to speak to him; his gaze alone is enough to let the leper pass. The man falls to his knees, pleading, “If you are willing, you can make me clean.”

Jesus sees a soul wandering through a graveyard of dead feelings, and he lays himself bare before his God: “My God, is this what it means to live?”

The Heart of the Son of God melts like water. Is this the Man to whom He and His Father opened the gate to the Paradise of Eternal Life? Where has the smile gone of the Man whose Heart is a river of wild happiness—like a waterfall that surfs from the high mountains down magnificent cliffs until it reaches the valley that heralds the ocean?

The leper has no beauty anywhere on his body to rest one’s gaze upon; the senses recoil at the stench of a body decomposing in an open grave.

The Son of God sees his soul, feels the beating of his heart; if He fails him, God fails him, and God is all he has left.

The man remembers and repeats the words with which he awoke that morning: “If you are willing, you can make me clean.”

The Son of God knows this; it is His Father who has brought Him to “Emmanuel, God with Us.”

Jesus’ heart becomes Bread. He extends His Hand over the skin that causes such revulsion, and says to him, “I want to; be clean.”

The man hears with his own ears the Voice that awakened in him that morning the faith that raised him from the tomb in whose pit he was contemplating his own death, and as he ly lifts his head, he sees the Face of God, face to face—it is Jesus, “Emmanuel, God with Us.”

The leper is speechless. He is the happiest man in the world; he is seeing God, whose Face not even Moses himself saw with his own eyes.

His God has not merely cleansed him of his leprosy; it is his soul that has been restored to its perfect youth. All the pain, accumulated over so many years, has vanished; the leper has been reborn in the body of a man in the golden age of his youth. The power that surrounds him and penetrates his being—from his skin to the depths of his soul—is a hurricane, a revolutionary storm, an earthquake on two legs. Who will silence him? Who will put a finger to his lips? Jesus senses that power; he can already see him running from town to town, shouting, "God is with us."

"Look, don't say anything to anyone; but go, show yourself to the priest, and offer for your purification what Moses commanded as a testimony to them."

It was impossible to silence him.

But after he left, he began to proclaim it loudly and spread the news, so that Jesus could no longer enter a town publicly; instead, he stayed outside in deserted places, and people came to him from everywhere.

The question is: What would you have done? What would I have done? What higher, more glorious, and happier purpose could we find than to run and proclaim to all people: "God is with us"?

What are you waiting for? Or are you all so wise? Or are you so proud as to believe yourselves strong and powerful enough to challenge God, as Satan did? The Door of Creative Wisdom stands open to you, and yet you hide behind DOUBT? Do you not know that DOUBT was the Mother of Satan's Envy? Who envies his Creator except a drunkard, a madman, or a demon?

This is why the Kingdom of Heaven belongs to the humble, because those who have everything turn their backs on Wisdom—always so perfect, always so demanding, immaculate, incorruptible—who asks for mind and soul, heart and thought, for herself and her Lord. Life is too short to have one's head in the clouds while down here everything is joy and celebration... But the one who has nothing to lose and a whole world to gain—he lifts his eyes, seeks the Face of God, opens his arms to His Wisdom, and places his soul in the hands of his Lord. Have we not all been lepers rescued from the gates of hell by "Emmanuel, God with Us"? Will we not run from town to town, from nation to nation, proclaiming aloud: "The King of Heaven has risen from His Throne; the Day of Glory and Freedom for the children of God has dawned; Our Father Who is in Heaven leads the armies of His Father's Kingdom; the Final Battle between God and Death for the Salvation of all the Nations of the Earth has begun. Come, nations, lay down your weapons; the Fountain of Universal Peace and Immortal Health has been opened to all people. Your Creator hears you; listen to your Creator; ask Him, and He will give you boundless intelligence in His image and likeness to combat all diseases, strength and wisdom to abolish all criminal organizations, and science and understanding to create new social structures. Glory to God in the highest, and peace and health to all the inhabitants of the Earth."

2-THE CASE OF THE BLIND MAN

The fame of the Son of David, God with Us, spread like fire through dry brush, ignited by the words of those who, like that leper—in his infinite joy at having seen God face to face—began to be living witnesses to the Son of God among men.

"Take me to Him," the blind man said to his people; "God will give me my sight."

Jesus' fame soared high on the wings of the saints, for he was never heard to say "NO" to anyone. But to those whose only problems are the usual ones—and every era has its own—and who are happy in their own way in their family cave, the words of the desperate pass by like summer clouds; their shadow brings joy for a second, and the next moment, it's back to the roof and water. The blind man insists: "Take me to the Son of God."

What if, in the story of that leper who saw God and brought the News to this blind man, the star of Salvation were to shine? Were they going to deny his wish?: "Take me to Him."

The blind man feels the light of God coursing through his being. "Do I want to see?" is the cry of his soul that his heart hears every day. Jesus touches his eyes. The blind man hears: "What do you see?"

The answer is from God for all of us: "I see people—something like trees walking."

This is who we are:

We are the trees of the Paradise of Life, in the image and likeness of God. Each one of us is a tree of life, from whose fruit we nourish one another. Some are scientists, some are artists, some are engineers, some are masons, some are farmers, some are writers... That was the mission of the First King of the Earth, Adam, son of God. Yes, this was his work: to cultivate this Garden of living trees, through whose sap Divine Wisdom brings to every person the life of intelligence in the image and likeness of the boundless Intelligence of our Creator.

Have you not yet understood that God is not a man, does not speak like a man, does not see with the eyes of a man, nor think with the mind of a man? What is heresy if not interpreting the Book of God as if it had been written by men?

God creates an Enigma—Genesis, the Creation of the Universe—and yet you seek a Champollion to find the Key that unlocks the door to the Treasure containing the secrets of Creation? Have you not heard of the Key of David, the one that opens and no one can shut, that shuts and no one can open? To whom would it be given? And to whom should it be given?

Many of Jesus' disciples and beloved ones were gathered together on Pentecost Sunday, but the Holy Spirit did not descend upon anyone in the form of tongues of fire except upon the Twelve. And here comes the first among all the fools from an ignorant family, declaring, "I have the Holy Spirit!"—and the pyramid of fools upon whom he will build his church of heretical saints kneels before the greatest fool on the planet?

To exploit men? A terrible crime in the eyes of the One who placed the Crown of the World upon his head.

To make men slaves in the service of the State? A terrible crime of perversion of the Power inherited from God by a son: for Power is given to serve God by cultivating the Garden of Intelligence among the children of men.

The Son, our God, came to serve, not to be served; the Son of God came to do His Father's Will, not His own.

That was the Power that the First Son of God, born of man, inherited with his Crown: to cultivate the Intelligence of the generations and to guide the growth of the Human Race within the Kingdom of God, whom his Son serves and from whose service he receives the Power necessary for the glory of his Father.

The Crime took place. The Divine Gardener became a tyrant, a despot, an exploiter, a fratricide, a criminal—everything that God hates. Since Intelligence makes men free in the image and likeness of their Creator, how can we allow the sciences of destruction and death to flow through their veins?

From whom do Power and Wisdom come?

From the One who laid His hands upon his eyes, and as he looked, he felt restored, seeing clearly that man is a tree of the Paradise of Wisdom.

That is what we are, at our core: living trees whose source of intelligence is in God, and in that Intelligence lies our Nature. Our Nature is not that of a malevolent Darwinian beast crushing the necks of the weak underfoot. The imperialist theory of the two natures—that of the slave and that of the free—found in Christian civilization the back door through which Satan slipped in to set himself up as the god of the Academy of Sciences.

The Protestant Reformation opened the door to the Serpent, who, making the Lie his banner, corrupted the Court of Adam and Eve and dragged it into the Civil War through which they were banished from the Kingdom and abandoned the Garden of the Tree of Intelligence to the perennial drought that destroyed it.

Such is human nature, and it is the mission of our civilization to educate all generations in intelligence in the image and likeness of the One who said, "Let us make Man in our image and likeness." For that very God who called Man to Divine Natural Intelligence is the Man who said to the blind man, "Be careful not to enter the village." And this Man is the Model in whose image and likeness God formed the First Man.

The Incarnation of God's Personality, the Son of God, by reclaiming Adam's Power and cultivating our Intelligence, showed us that our Creator is not far from us; He lives within our being just as the spring lives within the river. Or can there be a river if there is no spring?

Intelligence seeks the source; Ignorance makes its nest in the desert—it cares neither for the Past nor the Future; it is a rational animal without wisdom, drawing its strength from the Here and Now. It has built a world tailored to itself, and it will kill anyone who reveals its blindness.

Ever since the Fall into bestiality—which not even beasts themselves practice, devouring one another among families of the same species—families have shut themselves away in systems of their own that alienate them from the inner and intimate vision of the True, , and Natural Essence of the Human Being: Intelligence, in the image and likeness of our Creator, is the mirror in which the Divine Personality reveals itself in all the Beauty of its Wisdom—this Wisdom in which we see the Spirit of Love for the Law of Universal Brotherhood among all the Peoples of Creation, for all Peoples are trees of the same Garden of Eternal Life, branches of this Tree of Life in the Cosmos, whose Gardener is God Himself.

"I am the Vine, and my Father is the Vinedresser." And we are the branches that bear fruit—abundant fruit—the wine of boundless Intelligence, the joy of all hearts. What evil can come from the Divine Vineyard? The very idea is an offense.

"Beware of entering the village." Before God and with God, all is glory; apart from God and against God, there is hell and war. The warning is clear. They will say to you: "Another whom Jesus the Rich has paid to turn a blind eye and serve as publicity for his reputation as the Messiah."

What does John say: "The ax is already laid to the root of the trees, and every tree that does not bear fruit will be cut down and thrown into the fire."

Is God perhaps a lumberjack in the Canadian forests? Will the Creator of infinite stars be interested in trees that do not move, or in living trees whose fruit is Knowledge?

3. THE CASE OF THE ADULTEROUS WOMAN.

Civilization on Earth has long since become a process of constant and continuous growth in the midst of a forest of living trees whose glory lies in devouring one another until none remain, for the irrationality of those who banish from their blood the Water that comes from the Divine Source results in Extermination.

We see this unfold in the history of the Fall of Babylon the Great, the Imperial Rome of the Caesars.

Even so, setting aside the abominable nature of its wars for the Universal Kingdom of the Republic, Civilization had long been carving out its path, creating the edifice of a state based on law and justice.

In the eyes of Roman citizens—just as stoning to death is in our eyes in present-day Iran—the stoning of women, which came to be seen by the Romans and Greeks as the national sport of the Jews, made the Jews a nation of barbarians of the worst kind, since not even among the true barbarians of the European forests was such conduct ever considered. Let us return to this side of the mirror.

The scribes and Pharisees brought a woman caught in the act of adultery and, placing her in the center, said to him: "Teacher, this woman has been caught in the very act of adultery. In the Law, Moses commands us to stone such women; what do you say?"

The only known historical case in which a Jew stood up as an advocate for a woman accused of adultery is that of the famous Daniel, during the Babylonian Captivity—the very same Daniel who, under Nebuchadnezzar, was elevated to the position of Chief of the Magi of the Chaldean Court, and from that position Daniel founded the " , Mother of the East" Synagogue, in whose image all the synagogues scattered across the Roman Empire were built. That was the synagogue from which the Magi from the East came to worship the Son of God on the day of His birth. That Magus Daniel was the one who, through his Political Magic, brought down the House of Nebuchadnezzar, crowned the Assyrian Nabonidus, and finally overthrew Nabonidus by opening the gates of Babylon to Cyrus the Persian.

The Son of God had become man, and, unlike Daniel, He did not need to prove anything. Our minds and hearts are open books to His gaze.

This is why the Jews were despised by the Romans and Greeks—stoning a woman for having been seduced or for having given herself to a man!! Were they crazy? What kind of law is that?

It was Jewish law.

Since JESUS abolished that Law by refusing to enforce it, the question arises: Where are the True Jews today?

The answer is clear: They do NOT exist. They are a thing of the past.

The Jews lived by the Law of Moses. So will the State of Israel return to enforcing Jewish law, or will it live by the law of human rights championed by Christian nations? Well, if the State is Jewish, let it resurrect the stoning of women—just as it is carried out in the land of its mortal enemies, Iran.

The Romans and the Greeks—hard-hearted yet open to a civilization founded on laws aspiring to justice and social rights in accordance with evolving morals and ethics—could not understand that the worst among the barbarians, the Jews, precisely because of a law such as the public stoning of a woman, considered themselves the holiest nation of all peoples.

Pontius Pilate's gesture of washing his hands said it all: "The Jews are out of their minds; they stone their women for a fling, and their children for believing themselves to be children of God."

But was Adam, or was he not, a son of God? For if he was a son of God—which he was—would they have crucified his father Adam for being a son of God?

The First Man was so by virtue of his birth in God—unless there is still someone among the Jews who continues to claim that Adam was formed from clay, and that all races came from Eve's womb.

Is madness the wisdom of the New State of Israel?

Adam was the first man whom God called "Son"; anything that goes beyond this Truth means returning to a Law that, in its time, served as a shield of protection against a world subject to a law of "everyone against everyone," but whose application today would be a Crime Against Humanity—just as Islam and its laws of stoning and the buying and selling of girls are, in our eyes, a Crime Against God and Civilization.

The Supreme Law of Civilization is the Law of the Spirit of Jesus Christ: "Neither do I condemn you; go and sin no more."

Jews or Christians.

If you are Jewish, your Law compels you to stone adulteresses in the image and likeness of your enemy. But the State of Israel cannot be Jewish because its very existence would be an abomination in the eyes of God and of Christians.

The State of Israel, whether it admits it or not, is governed by the Law of the Doctrine of Jesus Christ, the source of human rights, common to all Christian nations.

Those who attack Israel and abhor its existence promote the hatred of Jews that the Nazis took to its ultimate expression—the Holocaust; in this hatred we discover the true origin of their protests against the State of Israel: they are Nazis, sold out to Islamic law, and for the sake of Islamic money they cultivate hatred of Jews.

Every person must learn to distinguish between an Israeli—a citizen of the State of Israel—and a "Jew" who exists only in the hellish depths of the hearts of those who, without being Muslim, seek to legalize in nations of Christian origin the law that Israelis have erased from their code of conduct: the stoning of women, the buying and selling of girls, the massacre of their own citizens demanding freedom—a code of conduct that is natural to Islamic countries, yet abominable in the eyes of every Christian, befitting a heartless beast.

The New Nazis hide behind progressive ideologies whose development cultivates ignorance and misery as a source of lifelong power. As enemies of the Christian Law of Growth Over Time, they make a pact with the Devil for their rise to power in exchange for handing over the lands they govern.

Hell against the Jews burns in the hearts of their Islamist sponsors; as soon as the Palestinian issue is raised and the master gives the order, the dogs run in a pack to sow hatred against the Israelis, thereby legitimizing the call to all Muslim nations to destroy the State of Israel.

PART THREE.

THE CREATION AND FUNCTION OF THE STATE

GIVE TO GOD WHAT IS GOD'S AND TO CAESAR WHAT IS CAESAR'S

MATTHEW 22:21

"Then the Pharisees went away and held a council to see how they might trap him in his words. They sent their disciples to him, along with the Herodians, to say, 'Teacher, we know that you are sincere and that you teach the way of God in truth, without regard for anyone, and that you do not show partiality. Tell us, then, what you think: Is it lawful to pay tribute to Caesar or not?'"

Jesus, knowing their malice, said, "Why are you testing me, you hypocrites? Show me the tax coin." They presented him with a denarius. He asked them, "Whose image and inscription are on this?" They replied, "Caesar's." Then he said to them, "So give to Caesar what is Caesar's, and to God what is God's."

When they heard this, they were amazed, and leaving him, they went away."

The history of Christian Europe is a source of wisdom. We have seen Caesar—that is, the State—fighting tooth and nail against God—that is, the Church. And we have seen the tables turn: the Church trying by every means to bring the State to its knees.

From the events recorded over the last thousand years, it is clear that Divine Wisdom was cast aside in the shadow of the interests of each—the State and the Church. It is not that men lacked intelligence, but rather that both—the servant of the State and the servant of the Church—had an abundance of passion for the possession of donkey's jaws and ambition for the ownership of stones.

The Origin of the State and the Church is Wisdom. And Wisdom is God. The Creation of a World in which Peoples born on different stars come and find Eternal Dwelling was born in and of Yahweh God.

Since Eternity, the stars have been nests of life. Their life and death inspired the Lord of Eternity and the Infinite, Yahweh Diois, to create a world of countless peoples, originating from the most diverse stars, each with its own distinct civilization. And all are united in immortality by this WISDOM, of which their Lord, Yahweh Diois, says in His Book:

"Arise now, my beloved, my beautiful one, and come! For winter is past, and the rains have ceased. The blossoms are already appearing on the earth; the time for pruning has come, and the cooing of the turtledove is heard in our land. The fig tree has already put forth its shoots, and the flowering vines are spreading their fragrance. Arise, my beloved, my beautiful one, and come!

My dove, who nests in the crevices of the rocks, in the cracks of the rugged cliffs, let me see your face; let me hear your voice. For your voice is sweet, and your face is enchanting."

Of this Wisdom, daughter of the Infinite and Eternity, we read:

“Yahweh possessed me at the beginning of his ways, before his works, from of old. From eternity I was established; from the beginning, before the earth came to be. Before the abysses, I was brought forth; before the springs of abundant waters came to be. Before the mountains were set in place, before the hills, I was conceived. Before He made the earth, or the fields, or the very dust of the earth. When He established the heavens, I was there; when He drew a circle upon the face of the abyss. When He condensed the clouds on high, when He gave strength to the springs of the abyss. When He set the sea’s boundaries so that the waters would not overstep its limits. When He laid the foundations of the earth, I was there with Him as an architect, always being His delight, finding joy before Him at all times, delighting in the world, and taking pleasure in the children of men. Hear me, then, my children; blessed is the one who follows my ways. Listen to instruction and be wise; do not despise it. Blessed is the one who listens to me and watches at my door every day, guarding the doorposts of my gates. For whoever finds me finds life and will attain the favor of Yahweh. On the contrary, whoever offends me harms himself, and whoever hates me loves death.”

From this we see that the Creative Act of Life is not an exercise in improvisation, nor an experiment subject to chance—if it turns out well, glory; if it turns out badly, no big deal. The Creation of a Universe in which the Tree of Life—in the image and likeness of the Son of God—will flourish is an Act of meticulous planning, both in terms of Space, Matter, and Time, as well as the Dynamics of the Ages of the Tree’s Growth.

It is clear from the life of Jesus that Creation does not end with simply knowing God and that’s all there is to it. From His Word…

“Truly, truly, I say to you, the Son can do nothing on His own, but only what He sees the Father doing; for whatever the Father does, the Son does likewise. For the Father loves the Son and shows Him everything He does, and He will show Him even greater works than these, so that you may be amazed”…

…. It follows, and it is understood, that the Metaphysics of the Creative Act sustains the Creation of this World—a dwelling place for countless peoples whose civilizations are governed by Wisdom, that Wisdom of which God speaks in His Book:

“For in it there is an intelligent spirit—holy, unique yet manifold, subtle, agile, penetrating, immaculate, clear, harmless, benevolent, keen, free, and a doer of good. A lover of mankind, stable, sure, tranquil, all-powerful, omniscient, penetrating all intelligent, pure, and subtle spirits. For Wisdom is more agile than anything that moves; its purity spreads and penetrates all things; for it is a breath of divine power and a pure emanation of the glory of Almighty God, and therefore there is nothing tainted in it. It is the radiance of eternal light, the spotless mirror of God’s actions, the image of His goodness. And being one, it can do all things; and remaining the same, it renews all things; and throughout the ages it pours itself out into holy souls, making them friends of God and prophets. God loves no one but the one who dwells with wisdom. It is more beautiful than the sun; it surpasses the entire host of stars, and, when compared to light, it takes first place. For night follows light, but wickedness does not triumph over wisdom.”

God’s Will to elevate Life to Immortality, to establish a World based on a Single Special Law—within whose dimension the laws of Matter, Space, and Time do not govern—led God to create a Universal State, the Head of this Society of Peoples originating from different stars, whose Divine Law is the Source Code of Regional Governments.

The human race has been created from this Universal Metaphysics. There is a State and a Church. The State has a Function, and the Church has a Mission.

But if a child were born into a home and a town where the very idea of need were inconceivable, and the presence of love for God and neighbor were not mere rhetoric—as Human Rights are in the discourse of our day—the creation and coexistence of the State and the Church, built upon paradisiacal conditions, would not have written such sad and disastrous chapters in the Book of History.

St. Peter, speaking of Faith, wrote:

"Blessed be God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who in his great mercy has begotten us anew to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance that is imperishable, undefiled, and unfading, kept in heaven for you, who by God's power are being guarded through faith for a salvation ready to be revealed in the last time. Therefore, you rejoice, even though you may now have to grieve a little because of various trials, so that your faith—which is more precious than gold, which perishes even though tested by fire—may be found worthy of praise, glory, and honor at the revelation of Jesus Christ, whom you love without having seen him, in whom you now believe without seeing him, and you rejoice with an inexpressible and glorious joy, receiving the fruit of your faith, the salvation of your souls.

"Which perishes"...

Our case is that of Homo sapiens cristianensis.

Our case is not that of Homo sapiens adanensis, born among the leaves of the Garden of Eden, free from disease, enjoying the first fruits of immortality, beloved by Wisdom—the First Man who was called the son of God.

It is no wonder that access to the Society and Civilization of Early Mesopotamia has left a universal memory of its Fall—the Lost Atlantis—while simultaneously creating a black hole in the Memory of the Human Race. From the Golden Age of the Neolithic, 7,000–6,000 B.C., we moved into the Third Millennium B.C. Three thousand years lost in the mist. Not a single clue to the heart of that darkness. Archaeologists and historians pass over that period of time as if fleeing the Devil's house. Unable to justify their ignorance—worse still, in their pride refusing to acknowledge that they were and remain powerless to open that door—they prefer to affirm by denying:

There is nothing to say because there is nothing to talk about.

"I think, therefore I am."

If all the peoples of humanity have contemplated immortality, is it or is it not because this immortality is the Beginning and the End of the Creation of Man? For one does not think about what one does not possess.

Thought arises from what the Being possesses within itself. Created to be immortal, this Principle manifests itself in the Being in the form of Thought.

Which came first, Mozart or the child? Evidently, the child was born to bring to life the Mozart who lived within his Being. Thus, the son-of-God lived within Neolithic Homo sapiens, so that his growth toward his awareness of the son-of-God within him was natural.

This is a process we find in all ancient peoples. From north to south, from east to west, immortality was the horizon of all human peoples. The Seed of Immortality was embedded in the Creation of Life and released by the Word:

"Let us make Man in our image and in our likeness."

C1

The Creation of Man in the image and likeness of the children of God closed the door of the animal law to the World State. The animal law was left behind. Man embraced a New Law, common to all the Peoples of the Heavens.

For Immortality looks to a Law that cannot be sustained in a universe subject to the natural laws of Space, Time, and Matter. The Future of Immortal Life is to have a Home of One's Own in a World created to sustain eternal life.

In the days of the First Man, the number of families on Earth began to be counted.

Over the next millennia, the Kingdom of Homo sapiens adanensis would spread across all regions of the five continents, until God deemed that man's time on Earth had come to an end. But no one could pinpoint a date for when this event would take place: Civilization had only just begun to write the Book of the History of Mankind.

We already know what happened. The First Man fell, his kingdom collapsed, and his world was buried beneath the waters of the Flood. The darkness of Ignorance cast a thick black veil over the eyes of the peoples' intellect. A Father who loved his children dearly abandoned them, overnight, without offering any explanation to anyone.

The despair was profound among all the peoples of the world. The established state crumbled to dust; the Universal Religion, still in its infancy, vanished like smoke in the fog. Everyone sought a coherent answer that would allow them to understand what had happened. Mythologies and ancient religions were born. Each and every one of them was a patch on the wall, a justification for the law of universal fratricide, in whose fires the Dream of the World State and the Universal Religion—upon whose pillars God had created the Kingdom of the First Man, his son Adam—were reduced to ashes.

FUNCTION OF THE STATE

The First Vital Function of the State is Peace—both National and International. Peace at Home, Peace Abroad.

A State that permits or fosters the disruption of National Peace by turning a blind eye to the disruption of Civil Peace—fomented by a government seeking to establish a throne upon the loss of Liberty—is a State moving toward a Criminal Regime.

When the crime is committed as an act of power, the entire General Staff is summoned before a court-martial.

The State was not created to serve any political government. The State's function is peace. A peace that is broken and a State that remains silent are two sides of the same criminal coin.

It is the State's duty to defend national peace by exposing, through the trail of government corruption, its attack on unity against all the peoples of the nation. For a government that is governed by the maxim "Divide and conquer" is an enemy of peace.

Unity among all the peoples of the nation—whose peace has been entrusted to the State—is its duty toward the lives of all the nation's families.

A State that stands idly by in the face of a division whose ultimate outcome is civil war or the breakup of the nation is a corrupt State whose leaders will be held accountable before a court-martial.

C3

THE CHRISTIAN STATE

The Christian State is not accountable to any government whose goal is to transform the nation into a brothel governed by an association of pimps organized as a political party, for whom each region is a sex slave.

The State is a Body with its Own Laws, whose Institutions cannot be invaded by associations of political groups operating like viruses with the mission of abolishing those Laws and subjecting the State to the Law of Corruption promoted by a government whose only sacred activity is Institutionalized Progressive Corruption.

It is in peace that man becomes a human resource for mankind, together creating a universal civilization with borders open to all generations in pursuit of knowledge shared by all, a solvent in which the manipulation of truth by the mass media in the service of corruption returns to the sewers from which it emerged.

The State is a historical entity whose lessons in wisdom prepare humanity to resist the techniques designed to disrupt peace in the service of absolutist and dictatorial governments, at whose feet the mass media—the Judases of our time—cast aside the truth, preventing the government's true face from being seen in the light of day.

The separation between the State—whose existence is continuous through time—and the Government—whose existence is fleeting, following the maxim "to be god for a day"—is not a matter of circumstance: it is a Law of Life. For peace does not belong to the Government, but to the State.

Now, we have seen in recent centuries that governments lead nations into war for the sake of the survival of the ruling parties, and what is even more abominable: the armies, like wild dogs, follow such associations of political criminals to the slaughterhouse where they will bury the opposition to their miserable "progressive" systems.

PART FOUR

THE MISSION OF THE BISHOPS AND PASTORS OF THE CHURCH'S CONGREGATIONS

"The cowards, the unfaithful, the abominable, the murderers, the sexually immoral, the sorcerers, the idolaters, and all liars will have their part in the lake that burns with fire and sulfur, which is the second death."

THIS IS GOD'S PRESENT WILL:

"LET ALL THE CHURCHES BE UNITED INTO ONE SINGLE CHURCH"

I

God's Will is the expression of His boundless Wisdom and the manifestation of His Love for the life of the human race. Let no one doubt it; after He sent us the Son of His Womb as a Champion against the enemy of the Son of Man, we know for certain that God's Love is the Love of the Creator and the Love of the Father. This Love became flesh and blood in the Church, the Immaculate Bride of Christ, and no one is better suited than the Mother herself to speak of her Lord. The Church's Love for her Spouse and Lord is beyond all doubt. For we all know that God was not looking at Eve when He said to her:

"I will greatly increase the pains of your childbearing; with pain you will give birth to children, and your desire will be for your husband, and he will rule over you."

God is not a man. He does not think like a man. His word is not the word of a man. The Word of God is God. Is the word of a man the man himself? If it were, then God would not say:

"All liars will have their share in the lake that burns with fire and sulfur, which is the second death."

And yet, when a gardener sees that his crop has rotted, does he not pull up the weed, tree, or plant and throw it into the fire? Since man was created to see God as his Model, man's words should follow the principle:

"In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God."

And we say: The word of man is man.

But, being accustomed to discovering that the person who speaks is one, and the man hiding behind his words is another, we understand perfectly God's absolute rejection of a man whom He did not create: a man who loves lies, in the image and likeness of Satan. And we also know that at the hour of the Crime, God's Justice makes no distinction between children and servants, between the great and the small; the Spirit of God lives in His Word.

And having been created in His image and likeness, the spirit of Man must dwell in His Word.

Just as the Spirit and God are one Being, so too the spirit of man and Man Himself cannot be two distinct realities. This is what the Church saw in Christ; she united herself to Him in flesh and blood, and has carried within her through the centuries this Image of Man created by God.

There is no need to emphasize the Lord's awareness of His spiritual marriage to the Church; conversely, the Church's awareness of being the Bride of Christ is evident in her history and her writings. For those who do not like to read and rely exclusively on what their eyes see, it suffices to place on one side the life-and-death battles in which the Bride of Christ won the laurels of victory, and on the other, the Word of her Bridegroom on the Day of their Union before God:

"The gates of Hell shall not prevail against your walls."

We see that from the very day God manifested His Infinite Rejection of the Liar—who makes deceit his art and finds his genius in the Lie— the God and Lord of Wisdom, Father of Christ Jesus, had His eyes fixed on the Redemption and Salvation of the Human Race; for if, in His Judgment, He condemned an entire world for the Crime and Betrayal of a son of God, that Ancient World would perish, but the Word is God, so that the Fall could not close the Creator off from the very heart of His Creation; therefore, He said to the Bride and the Bridegroom, both of whom were in the bosom of His Wisdom:

"You will give birth to children in pain."

Indeed, we see how much pain the Bride of God, Wisdom, suffered in the Birth of the House of the Brothers of Christ Jesus—all sons of YAHWEH GOD—who seated them around the KING as His Almighty Ministers with Full Powers, the Living Temple in which the Spirit of God dwells, in whom the Word of God was fulfilled:

"You are gods, but you will die like any of the princes."

The Bride's pain is shared by her Bridegroom and the Father of her children.

Since the Apostles are children of the LORD YAHWEH GOD, is it any wonder that this Divine Father signed the Decree of the Roman Empire's Destruction?

Later, as the centuries passed, after Satan was released in the Year 1000 of the Era of JESUS CHRIST, the Father of all Liars and Deceivers came to sow his Evil Tares into the tongues of his servants, claiming that Babylon the Great of the Apocalypse is Our Mother, the Catholic Church.

The Ancient World died. A New World was born. The Mission of the Bride of the Lord was, is, and always will be the Conversion of the Fullness of the Nations to the Crown of her Lord, JESUS CHRIST. Faith in the Victory of her Lord has always remained alive, for God lives in her Lord—and who can stand in the way of God: the Father and the Son?

Evidently, the betrayal of a son of God against the Holy Spirit of Wisdom—the BRIDE of the LORD YAHWEH GOD—brought about a revolution in the structure of the Creator's relationship with His creation.

Even before the Creation of our Heavens and our Earth, a Revolution of this nature took place, in response to the DOUBT regarding the DIVINE TRUTH OF JESUS—a doubt that Satan himself spread among the kings of the Kingdom of God.

The LORD YAHWEH GOD's response to SATANIC DOUBT was the Glorification of His Son JESUS as KING and UNIVERSAL JUDGE. This heralded the Abolition of all the crowns of God's children to come.

GOD THE SON, King, Lord, Judge, and everlasting Father. For whoever has a Wife from his own being hopes to have children.

Many times the Bride of Yahweh God was persecuted and dragged to the brink of the grave that Satan dug time and again to cast into it the one who carried within her the Son of Man, the Champion chosen by God to crush the Serpent's head.

Many times the Bride of Him whom God beheld—thousands of years before she was born—has been attacked to the point of death, as God said:

"You will ardently seek your Husband, who will rule over you."

IV

The Offspring was born, begotten to be the Living Temple of the Holy Spirit: the Brothers of Christ Jesus, the King, Heirs with Him and through Him of the Kingdom of God—for the Government of Peace and Health for all the Peoples of Creation; Today, Tomorrow, and Forever, "God with Us."

For as we well understand, the Creator's Freedom cannot be chained to the circumstances generated by His Creation. Creation needs to feel continually that its Life is not walking on a bridge between the two precipices of an abyss. For this reason, in their Divine Love for their Creation, God the Father and God the Son took on the Responsibility of bringing forth within their Creation a Living Temple in which the Spirit who dwells in Them may live, in the fullness of His Glory, in the Service of the Creator.

The Apostolic Revolution initiated by Jesus Christ brought to completion the measures His Father had ordained to banish the presence of Death from His Creation. The Kingdom of the Son of God was established, and, just as it is presented to us in Revelation, all the Brothers and Children of God glorified the Almighty and Holy Crown of the Lamb of God.

But here below, the course set for the history of the Bride of the Lord continued to unfold the great events that would take place over the next two millennia.

Those who, in the sixteenth century, rose up in mortal hatred against Our Mother, the Catholic Church, committed a most grave error. Nothing less than a — interpreting the Word of God as if the Word of Jesus Christ were that of a mere man. Did the Jews, perhaps, succeed in their interpretation of the nature of the Son of David, whose coming they had awaited for centuries? Or did the sages of our era break the seal with which God had sealed His hieroglyph regarding the creation of the universe?

It is extremely grave to interpret the Word of God according to the mindset of the times. That is why the Jewish people were condemned to exile. God is not a man; His word does not spring from the hearts and minds of men. Was not Satan's condemnation the loss of his nature as a son of God? Deprived of his nature as a son of God, his thoughts became like those of the beasts into which his betrayal transformed mankind.

And so these men—the sowers of the Evil Tares of Division among the churches: Luther, Calvin, Zwingli, and their brothers in evil—hollowed out the Word of JESUS CHRIST, distorting His Doctrine of the Kingdom of Heaven, which was given in parables by the Messiah, son of David, prophet, and Son of God, the Father of all prophets. It is to them—knowing of His coming and calling His followers to obedience—that the following is written:

"I testify to everyone who hears the words of the prophecy in this book: If anyone adds to these things, God will add to him the plagues described in this book; and if anyone takes away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God will take away his share in the tree of life and in the holy city, which are described in this book."

This Book refers to the Book of God, of which the Book of Revelation is the Epilogue.

Blind and deaf, each servant of the evil sower tore from the Book of God whichever books he pleased, only to then interpret Divine Wisdom according to their spiritless minds, which they immediately concealed—just as Luther's "hidden god" concealed his face—through the charade of possessing the Holy Spirit, and from that madness, to declare a war to the death against every creature that did not bow its knees before them, gods among us. Are their crimes not recorded? Did not the hatred toward the Bride of Christ bear fruit in the Thirty Years' War?

Did the "plagues written in this book" not fall upon Germany?

The reasons Divine Wisdom had for releasing the Devil from his prison stem from the necessity of Christ's death. As I have argued on previous occasions, the entire Creation needed to see, understand, and comprehend why the Law—"Do not eat, for you will die"—and the Creator became one. The entire House of God and the peoples of His creation needed to see the reason for God's infinite hatred toward the knowledge of good and evil and its worshippers, whose judgment reads as follows:

"They will have their share in the lake that burns with fire and sulfur, which is the second death."

Indeed, through the first death one sleeps, only to awaken at the Judgment; but whoever lives in the image and likeness of Satan will go with his lord and god into Exile for Eternity.

God the Father judged the Ancient World before God the Son:

"for the Son does what He sees the Father doing; the Father shows the Son everything He does, and as He sees the Father doing, so does the Son."

Once the Last Judgment is complete, there will be no Third Death. The Divine Mission of the Church has been, and remains, to open the eyes of mankind in the hope that they will not be delivered over to the Second Death. For whoever believes in the Son of God does not die but has eternal life—the Word of God.

V

Liberation from the Devil, sowing the evil tares of division among the churches, dragging the nations into world wars, in whose ashes all the Catholic peoples of the Earth and all the Jews of the world should lie dead. These are the broad outlines that Satan followed during the 1,000 years following his liberation at the beginning of the Second Millennium.

Through this release, God wished to show His entire House that the hatred of that evil serpent against the Holy Spirit of Wisdom is irreversible, boundless, and hellish.

Once the Being has been created in the image and likeness of its Creator, the Creature possesses life within itself; Freedom and Intelligence dwell within our Being, and we can direct our steps in whatever direction we deem best, always mindful that to set out on a path leading to the destruction of Creation is to declare war on our Creator.

Father of His Creation, the Crime becomes hellish when a child seeks to destroy his Father's House; all the more hellish because the very idea of confronting God and emerging victorious reveals an absolute suicidal madness of such a nature that preferring Exile to Existence in a Universe governed by the Law of the Spirit of God is his final choice.

This is the reality that the entire House of God witnessed firsthand the moment Satan emerged from his prison.

The Schism of 1054 was no accident. Until then, the tension between the Byzantine Orthodox Church and the Roman Catholic Church had maintained their unity—difficult, laborious, but active. To rush headlong against that bridge—which was the first thing Satan did—proved that his hatred for the Holy Spirit is hellish. Thus, through his hatred, what our Father in Heaven had told Satan in the wilderness was fulfilled: "You shall serve the Lord God." For since hatred is the fire that consumes him, the virulent force of his unleashed wickedness accelerated all historical circumstances so that the entire House of God might see that the end of every world subject to the Law of the Knowledge of Good and Evil is its self-destruction.

VI

"Blessed are those who believe without seeing."

Given what we have seen over the past six thousand years, do we, the children of God, need to witness a Third World War—of a thermonuclear nature—wiping out all life from the face of the Earth?

Neither the children of God in Heaven nor the children of God on Earth need to see in order to believe. God said it at the very beginning of this War, there in Eden: "YOU ARE DUST, AND TO DUST YOU SHALL RETURN," and His Word is Law for us.

In Christ, the prototype of Adam and Head of the Christian world, we discover Adam, Head of his world; hence, through the sin of one man, the whole world was condemned—or does the body continue to live if the head falls?

And conversely, if the head is resurrected, will not its body also be resurrected?

Such was the experience lived by God throughout His existence in the Uncreated Cosmos, during which He witnessed the fall of infinite worlds at the feet of the Law of the Science of Good and Evil.

Is not the Being who sees hell in that Law Holy and Good?

Certainly, no member of the House of God lived through this Experience, in whose fires the Spirit of the Creator was forged—the fires of which God spoke, saying:

"I alone was formed; I am God, and after Me there will be no other."

In this way, He closed the Door to a Future in which God would subject His Son to such a forging of His Spirit—neither His Firstborn nor His Brothers. Once the Door of Death is closed, the tragedy experienced by the human race will never be repeated in any of the works of creation of new universes and worlds, about which He told us while He was among us:

"The Father will show you greater works than this, so that you may be amazed."

An invitation to the peoples of humankind to witness the act of creation of universes and their worlds once the history of humankind on Earth has come to an end. From one place. From the other, the Almighty Word by which, for all eternity, no world will ever experience the tragedy suffered by humankind.

God the Son has no need to relive this Situation repeatedly so that His Spirit may be Holy like that of His Father and God.

PART FIVE.

THE COVENANT OF THE FULLNESS OF CHRISTIAN NATIONS

Mankind, and all intelligent life brought to life by the Creator of the Universe, was created to enjoy immortality. We are immortal by the supernatural nature of our Creator, in whose image and likeness we were created. Hence the aspiration of all peoples on Earth for eternal life. During the period from the Fall to the Birth, the Earth experienced, so to speak, a blackout of Intelligence; the Source—God—who had fueled humanity's Leap from its natural animal condition to the condition of children of God, severed the Communication between Wisdom and Man.

The historical sciences have never been able to explain this phenomenon of the collapse of the peaceful agri-food revolution, the foundation for the creation of the first Mesopotamian cities, nor its descent into a state of perpetual fratricidal war, extending its battlefield to the very ends of the known world. Through Wisdom, we are aware of the entry into Earth's history of a destructive force, the metaphysical nature of whose action is defined by the words: "You are dust, and to dust you shall return."

Thus, having been created for immortality, from one day to the next the earth opened up beneath the feet of the First Families, and where all the inhabitants of the world had hoped for a World Civilization—the Gate to the Paradise of the gods—they discovered the hell of a fratricidal World War.

The mindset of the modern medieval scientist has consisted of denying everything he does not understand, inventing a discourse that conceals his intellectual impotence to rise to the level of the Creator of Heaven and Earth, turning his atheism into a negative religion, and defending tooth and nail his fictional version of the structure of reality—in which they are the wise ones, and their wisdom is indisputable.

We know—because we see it—that they have transformed man's intellectual development into a profound ideological manipulation of his behavior; the metaphysics of their crime, based on fratricidal rhetoric, fires the shot that ignites the struggle among the powerful for empire across the five continents.

Here we see that the force which signed the declaration of war between the city-states for the empire of the Four Regions remains.

The scope of global fratricidal ambition has changed. Yesterday: the Akkadians, Assyrians, Babylonians, Persians, Greeks, and Romans killed one another for world empire. Today: Communists, Socialists, and Islamists have taken up that mantle and adopted a common goal: to destroy Christian civilization; and once the foundations of civilization have been destroyed, the time of the Law will come: There can be only one emperor in the world.

Ignorance—stemming from a lack of understanding of the nature of the forces that drive the history of life on Earth—is the cause of the ongoing state of global civil war, unleashed by the betrayal of the wisdom of a son of God, not of our world.

History of the Past: with the Resurrection, immortality returned to humankind. Since then, we have known that eternal life begins today. It does not begin tomorrow in a world beyond the stars of the heavens. We live in eternity; we are citizens of the Kingdom of Eternal Life. The conduct of humankind, nourished by the Source of eternal life, begins here.

This is the conclusion drawn from the life of Jesus Christ. How can anyone who, in this world, has made the Divine Law his enemy be admitted into a world governed by Truth, Peace, and Justice!

Since all current laws are designed to maintain a state of perpetual global civil war, it is the duty of all children of God to abolish those laws and dismantle all organizations created to defend this global fratricidal nature.

The defense of the lives of nations cannot be sidelined by a law that excludes full assistance from the international community.

The intervention of all nations in the affairs of a state when that state has become a genocidal machine is not merely a duty of all God's children: it is the right that God has placed in the hands of His Son, from whom springs the Alliance of Nations for Peace and Freedom for all the peoples of Creation, led by the King of Heaven and Lord of the Earth, JESUS CHRIST: against dictators, malignant international criminal organizations engaged in drug trafficking, human trafficking, and the trafficking of children's organs and blood, warlords, tyrants, and governments entrenched in corruption that fuels civil war.

The abolition of this duty of boundless universal brotherhood renders the right to life a chimera, the right to freedom and peace an absurdity, and any organization that perpetuates such a crime against humanity an absolute enemy of humankind.

God brought His Kingdom to Earth, opening up for us a horizon of Universal Christian Fraternity, within whose civilization any evil that rises up against a nation is met ipso facto by the unity of the nations.

The Right to Life, Peace, and Freedom is not a crumb of bread thrown to the little dogs, just as we see it falling from the hands of criminal political organizations that conceal their plundering of the Treasury of the Nations by throwing out social aid for survival to the flocks whose blood and sweat they live off.

The Right to Defend Human Life is a Right founded on the Duty of all God's children, whose Head of Universal Power is the King of Heaven and Lord of the Earth: JESUS CHRIST. Defending this right by exercising the duty with the fullness of the power given by God to the nations with whom, in the name of His Son, we have signed a Covenant of Eternal Life, is not an option; for whoever is able to help and refuses to stand up between Cain and Abel, between the genocidal perpetrator and the people, becomes guilty of a capital offense.

The UN was founded with the mission of establishing and defending peace among its member nations. The corruption that drives everything has supplanted this spirit, and —operating just like a virus—has infiltrated its body to strip its existence of meaning and steer its growth in the opposite direction: to bless the isolation of a people from their dictators and criminal organizations in power, abandoning that nation to its cursed fate.

No sooner had this spirit of fratricidal evil been born—the abandonment of a people to genocide against their families at the hands of the reigning dictator— we witnessed the Holocaust in Syria at the hands of a Butcher from Hell, off the coast of whose region an Alliance of nations—led by an American president, whom they called the Prince of Peace—withdrew in obedience to the mandate of a perverse UN, enslaved to the Alliance of Civilizations signed by the communist and Islamic powers.

Can the UN free itself from this spirit of boundless evil that has turned a blind eye to the massacres of Christians in Darfur, Ethiopia, and Nigeria, for example?

Or must we create the Alliance of the Fullness of Christian Nations in the image and likeness of the Covenant between God and the Peoples of His Creation, governed by a Crown with Eternal Universal Jurisdiction over all the Nations of His Kingdom?

We have already seen that the evolution of the concept of justice and law over the centuries has led our civilization to a justice with universal jurisdiction, its power curtailed by the interests of dictators, tyrants, theocrats, and other creatures whose very essence is death.

This Horizon of Growth is the Natural one that corresponds to the Constitution of the Kingdom of God, in Heaven as on Earth. Evidently, in Heaven, the Constitution of the Kingdom of the Son of God operates in all its Omnipotence and All-Power in accordance with the Wisdom and Omniscience of His Divine Father.

It is the duty of all God's children born on Earth to build peace and their future within the framework of the Constitution established upon the Covenant between God and Man, signed by His Son.

As far as we can tell, we know that the UN—dominated by criminal interests, serving dictators and perpetrators of genocide—once its Assembly has settled into denying aid to the peoples of humankind in exchange for payment for its services to whitewash the blood on its members' hands—this spiritless UN is dead. The unbearable stench that this corpse spreads throughout the Earth is a breeding ground for corruption for all manner of organizations founded on the corruption engendered by the government's assault on the state.

The Alliance between God and Man is with the Christian Civilization founded on Earth by His Son, whose Spirit the UN not only fails to acknowledge but has even set itself up as the Number One Enemy of our Civilization.

Its days are numbered; its hours are swiftly passing toward the burial of an organization that has already served its time, and it will give way to an organization comprising the fullness of Christian nations in defense of peace and life in freedom for all peoples of the human race—born to place its existence in the service of the King of Eternal Life.

The immortality of man is no fiction. We saw the man whom God created in the beginning—the beauty of his word, the glory of his judgment, the excellence of his moral conduct, the zeal for justice that courses through every cell of his being, his boundless courage to confront evil in all its forms, and his adoration for the Law of Life of our Creator. Who is like Him, with a Heart that becomes the Water of eternal life and a Mind open to the Wisdom of a God of gods, whose Word is law for the entire Cosmos!! Why did Science declare itself a mortal enemy of Jesus Christ? What did it intend—to tear open the Virgin of Nazareth's womb and dissect her flesh until it understood how God exercises a Power that resides beyond the Nature of Matter?

Behold, a speck of dust refuses to accept that its intellect cannot embrace the limits of the cosmos with its arms!!

Its atheism is the version of Satan's speech: "Since I cannot be a god in Creation, I will be a god in Destruction."

The Earth upon which we tread is established upon Eternity by virtue of the Creative Omniscience of the Lord of the Cosmos. How many sciences and disciplines are necessary to create an Ocean of Galaxies and to plant a Tree of Worlds with eternal life!! It took God the Father an eternity of eternities to encompass all those sciences, to cultivate all those disciplines, and to make this Omniscience the Gate beyond which His Power is transformed into the Creation of Life in His Image and Likeness—in a Universe created by Him to be His Home, His World, His Homeland, His City, His Paradise!!

This is why He says of Himself:

"I was formed,

I am God,

and there will be no other after Me."

And that is why His Son says: "Everything that belongs to the Father is mine."

Indeed, what is Power without Intelligence? In his Father's Omniscience, the Son finds the Intelligence that enables him to open his mouth, and through his Word, "Lazarus rises."

Magic?

"Let there be stars in the firmament of the heavens," and the stars rush to their places in the constellations.

Witchcraft?

The scientists of the Academy wish to rival the Creator of this marvel—the Tree of the Constellations—in wisdom and intelligence.

The time of conflict between Divine Wisdom and human Intelligence has come to an end. Yesterday, it was She who turned her back on those who sought her.

Today, She is the one who opens Her arms to those who seek Her. All the secrets of the sciences of life, peace, and health are in Her hands.

Will Pride hinder the encounter between God and Man? Or will we act like the First Man—the one who, doubting his Father's Word, opened Pandora's box to test whether God speaks the Truth or tells a Lie?

That is why God gave us His Only-Begotten Son as our Champion, so that by seeing in His Son the Wonder of His Personality, we might see the Personality of the One who says of Himself: "I Am Who I Am."

"I have been with you for so long, and yet you have not seen Me," the Son said to His brothers and sisters in the Spirit.

"Whoever sees the Son sees the Father."

True God from True God, two Persons, one Spirit: the Holy Spirit of Wisdom, Mother of Truth, Justice, and Peace, whom God loved so much that He begot for her a Body of flesh and blood, so that He might live among us for all eternity; from whose living womb, the Holy Mother Catholic Church, all the children of God from the House of Christ are born. And there is no child of God outside her Body, nor any church outside her Temple. The Christian born of her does not die, but has eternal life. Whoever calls himself a Christian and hates her Temple will be judged by his deeds, thoughts, and words, just as all those who were not born in the House of the Lord will be judged.

I will not be the one to consider myself superior to my Creator and, of my own free will, throw myself before the tribunal of a Judge before whose eyes every soul stands naked. But I do advise everyone who knows the Name of JESUS not to gamble away eternal life on the dice of pride and traditions imposed by dictators and false theocrats wielding chains and guns.

Did the Cosmos perhaps place a price on the creation of life in its stars so that God would pay His debt in flesh and blood?

Will we reject eternal life simply because it has been offered to us freely?

From whom, if not from Death, did the doctrine of murder as the price of entry into the Paradise of Universal Brotherhood come?

Throughout all lands and times, people have understood that they needed to pay a price to enter the world of the gods. Does God open a Door for us that is unlocked by uttering a Name: JESUS—and will you reject it because it is too easy and beautiful?

Then who taught you to believe that God is a Monster killing time by creating hells among the stars? Do you not know that Love is the opposite of War? "For God so loved the world." "This is my Beloved Son; believe in him."

What are we?

Creatures born just yesterday, survivors of a perpetual fratricidal war, brilliant beings afflicted by an intellectual illness that has built itself an invisible home in the soul of peoples. When the Day dawns, the nightmare dies. To continue living in the light of day the nightmare of the night—is that not madness?

The division between the regions of a nation, between the nations of a civilization, and among the Christians of the Earth is the gateway to Hell. We are brothers because we have the same Earth as our mother; and we are brothers because we have as our Father the King of Heaven and Lord of the Earth; because He is God, the True Son—our adoption makes us true children of God. The Day of our Birth was announced by the Holy Spirit, saying:

"The entire creation awaits with bated breath the birth of the Day of Glory and Freedom for the children of God."

Heirs to God's invincibility—where, then, is the fear of death?

PART SIX

THE FINAL BATTLE

Truth is priceless; those who buy it and those who sell it are both sides of the same coin: the Lie, mother of Corruption, mother of Misery.

This is the immaculate lesson of the History of the Science of Good and Evil on Earth, whose Law governed an Ancient Cosmos, devouring worlds and erasing from the Memory of the stars the memory of their children. It is Death, which advances amid fratricides, genocides, and wars that grow ever more intense until they reach their zenith: the War of the End of the World.

A story repeated ceaselessly among the stars until a Living Being, of Uncreated Nature, whose Name from Eternity is YAHWEH GOD, willed to separate Life from Death.

The love for life of the children of the stars was the Seed; Creative Omniscience was the Tree; its fruit was the Creation of Immortal Life in His image and likeness. An Eternity of Discoveries, guided by Wisdom—the Mother of all sciences—was forged by the Creative Arm of YAHWEH GOD and shaped His Social Spirit, that Personality of whom, speaking of Himself, He tells us: “I AM WHO I AM.”

There is NO other: HE is who He is!! His Love for Life manifested itself in that Eternity by pursuing Immortality for all the children of the stars until He elevated them to Natural Eternal Life within His Existence.

His Love for Humanity was revealed to us when He offered the Son of His own womb to the Cross.

He revealed to us the Beauty of the Spirit of His Universal Social Law not with words that would drown codes in a sea of ink; rather, that Spirit became Man before the eyes of Heaven and Earth, so that all the children of God and the entire House of YAHWEH GOD THE FATHER might see with the eyes of the Heart what seems so impossible to see with the eyes of the Mind. Hence the Declaration of Creation concerning its Creator: “GOD IS LOVE.”

Based on this Universal Truth, He created a New Cosmos—a field for sowing the Seed of Eternal Life, intelligent life in His image and likeness.

And here we are.

Two laws vie for dominion over the Earth: the Law of Life in the image and likeness of its Creator, our Father who is in Heaven, JESUS CHRIST; and the law of Death, which creates beings in the image and likeness of its son: SATAN.

Whoever lives by the Law of Life has Truth as their Father, loves Justice and Peace, and worships GOD above all things; whoever lives by the Law of Death:

has the Lie as their mother; their worship is directed toward Corruption;

breathes hatred toward Christianity, and all their strength is consumed in creating misery and ruin around them, upon whose mountain of falsehoods they build their Power;

his history is the chronicle of a fall repeated a thousand times over the millennia;

Power is his temple, Wealth is his Palace; he has been seduced and has fallen, captivated by a life in the image and likeness of a god;

the Law of Truth, Justice, and Peace is the enemy of its spirit; its archetype is Satan, that son of God who, in his pride, believed he could challenge and defeat YAHWEH GOD in a war to the death.

And here we are, in the Final Battle of this War to the Death between the Spirit of YHWH, who fills Heaven—His World—and the Spirit of Hell, who seeks to rule the Earth—our world.

The Good News is that God's decree for His Son—"Sit at My right hand until I make Your enemies a footstool for Your feet"—has been fulfilled.

The KING of Heaven and Lord of the Earth, GOD THE SON JESUS CHRIST, has risen; the Day—whose dawn the entire creation set its heart on—has dawned. The Offspring born to inherit His Father's Invincibility is already among men. The KING comes to conquer what belongs to Him: the Earth.

All His Ministers of Heaven are spreading throughout the nations in accordance with God's Wisdom; on Earth, all the KING's forces are rising up and advancing to conquer the governments of their nations.

In desperation, for this is his Final Hour, the Enemy of the Holy Spirit of the Law of Life seeks to drag all nations into a thermonuclear world war. In the destruction of all life on Earth, the Enemy of God and of Man seeks his glory before being banished from Earth—just as he was banished from Heaven—to be cast into the Abyss shrouded by the Outer Darkness that surrounds this Cosmos, in eternal and continuous expansion until the Infinite Spaces are revived.

Today is the Day to make the final personal decision that will direct each person's life toward the Left or the Right of the Son of Man. On the Left lies Death; on the Right, Life. Every person and every nation must decide which side of the Battlefield they wish to take.

One need only open one's eyes to see, in the Indestructibility of the KING's Bride—the Holy Mother Catholic Church—the Invincibility of the Son of God, her Lord, Our Eternal Father.

The history of these past two millennia presents a chronicle of a war to the death against the KING's Bride, from whose womb a generation of children of God was to be born to her Lord— —in whom the Spirit of Yahweh—the Spirit of wisdom and understanding, knowledge and strength, counsel and the fear of God—lives in its fullness. Has Death been able to destroy the Mother so that her son might perish in her womb? Has Satan been able to abort this birth since the days prophesied by the Holy Spirit?

Victory belongs to the KING. If the Final Battle is likened to a final game of chess between two combatants, the very idea of giving the enemy King—Satan—any chance of victory is suicide, madness, and ruin. The one who moves everything on the field of the KING of Life is GOD THE FATHER.

For many millennia, God has been awaiting this Day, this Final Battle, after which the Earth will be freed from its condemnation to this existence under the Law of Death. In honor of this Day, the children of God—Brothers in the Spirit of the Son of God—opened their arms to the Cross, paying with their Blood for our Victory on this Day of Freedom and Glory.

The forces of the International Antichristian Left, financed by the forces of the quintessential antichristian religion, Islam, have unleashed upon our nations the economic and social crisis in which we find ourselves in this year 2026, selling their voices to propaganda against the Global Christian Right. Following the roadmap of an anti-Christian Socialist Agenda, their parties became a cavern within whose walls this echo resounded: The Right is Fascism.

They have had their golden age, their time to grow rich and sow division among nations and their regions, corrupting institutions, promoting coups d'état, and defending dictators and perpetrators of genocide. Their time has come to an end.

The Son of God signed a Covenant between God and Man, by which Christian civilization will extend its borders to encompass all nations, to return the human race to the embrace of the Law of its Creator.

Let no one fear Death and its servants. The alliance between Islam and Communism has the strength of a serpent's tail severed from its head—much ado about nothing. Any nation that does not convert to the Crown of the King of Heaven and Lord of the Earth will be wiped from the map of Creation by God the Creator; the people will live on, but their government and their state will be swept away from the 21st century like dry leaves cast into the fire by the wind of the Spirit.

Created to experience immortality in the image and likeness of our Creator—eternal life—Man cannot be chained to the interests of political groups that buy the government with lies, selling the nation to foreign powers for a term of four, six, or eight years, in order to become immensely wealthy and live off the sweat of others for the rest of their lives.

The 22nd century is on the horizon. We must begin to build the World of the Future based on boundless trust in the Victory of GOD and His KING over Death and its king.

Man, the son of God, has everything in his Father, JESUS CHRIST; just as He has everything in YAHWEH, His Father.

In our hands lies victory over all diseases, victory over all international criminal organizations.

For the Word of God is God: "Ask, and it will be given to you."

What more could a creature born for intelligence ask for than to live in the boundless intelligence that is natural to its Creator!

Technologies and sciences beyond our wildest dreams await the hand of Man to be sown into our civilization and to steer our world away from the laws of destruction.

Scientific atheism dragged Intelligence away from the Sciences of Life and brought the generations of the 20th century to their knees before the Sciences of Death. Tearing down everything that Death has built is not an option; it is a Duty of all God's children.

The origin of the State lies in the love of parents for their children, of families for families, and of peoples for peoples—in the awareness that we are all part of the same Tree, the Human Race; its branches are the Nations.

A Common Global Defense against war, whether civil or international; a single Universal Justice against government corruption and against all types of organizations in the service of Death.

Peace is achieved through justice, not through unknown soldiers digging their own graves for the sake of criminal political associations.

In Eternity, there is no King other than JESUS CHRIST.

There is no other religion in the Paradise of eternal life than the religion founded on Earth by YAHWEH GOD THE FATHER.

May it be done on Earth as it is in Heaven.

PART SEVEN.

THE QUESTION OF THE LAW.

DOGMATICS

It is often said that the losers lose the right to write true history, and that the victors conceal, in self-serving accounts, the way history was actually lived—in its origins and its development. This theory applies to the Investiture Controversy, back in the 11th century of our Era. Not that the loser was the Catholic Church governed by Gregory VIII; the Church imposed its law on the Empire. But when the Catholic Empire lost its intellectual influence over Protestant European civilization, the schools born of the Reformation lashed out against Gregory VII with such anti-Christian virulence that they went so far as to call him Saint Satan.

Why?

Precisely because he was a saint.

The Holy Mother Catholic Church has brought many saints into the world. It is the only institution in the world that has brought saints into the world. Other religions call some of their followers "saints" based on their internal laws. When murder makes a saint, the saint turns the crime into an apology for holiness. Only those who are ignorant of the True Divine Personality accept murder as a bargaining chip to enter Paradise.

We are referring to the case of the Founders of Protestantism and their law of collective murder against Catholic Heretics.

When the victors of a movement write their history, they tend to conceal a crucial fact: they started the war. And they started it because they embraced the law of murder as a divine duty toward humankind—whom they intend to save, precisely, by killing.

The words of the "Great" Luther against peasants and Jews, which, in short, say:

"Kill them all; they are all dogs; one by one, they are all children of Satan," reveal to us the true face of their "hidden god."

How the Protestants reconciled the contradiction of simultaneously worshiping both Satan and Jesus Christ is a mystery that is solved by studying World War II, when the spirit of Luther rose from the grave to face the Ghost of Communism in a life-and-death struggle for world domination!

But this form of "Protestant Holiness," forged in the image and likeness of Islamic Holiness—whose laws against the Christian enemy were adopted by the British Empire against the Catholic enemy, revealing the origin of both empires—set a precedent. The reinterpretation of history and the falsification of its causes by universities in the service of the crimes of their national god, Henry VIII, and his daughter Elizabeth I, produced a version—still prevalent in the Protestant world—of the struggle between the Empire and the Church, between Gregory VIII and

Henry IV of the Holy Roman Empire, whereby Henry VII of England became a saint and Gregory VII a demon, “Saint Satan.”

Future generations will have to ask themselves whether that Protestant Criminal is the Prototype of Man that God created, and explain when Jesus Christ ceased to be that Son of God in whose Image and Likeness his Father created us.

Let us, then, enter history through the grand entrance, the Gate of Truth.

YOU SHALL NOT KILL.

Absurd, isn’t it? At least not for Emperor Henry IV of Germany.

Did Jesus Christ come to abolish the Law? Isn’t whoever kills a criminal?

The answer came from hell at the hands of the other Sower of Hatred—the architect of the evil law against the Catholic Church, John Calvin—for whom the death of a Catholic was not only a service to humanity but also a glorification of God, and since God creates both the criminal and the victim, killing the Catholic enemy meant surpassing Jesus Christ, who had already become obsolete after fifteen centuries of converting people to his “GOD IS LOVE.”

Henry IV of Germany fell into the trap into which Adam’s world had sunk: believing himself to be a god.

Henry IV sought to make the Bride of the Lord his imperial concubine, thus following in the footsteps of the emperor of the Church of Constantinople. We all know what the Byzantine emperor expected from the Patriarch of the Second Rome: a blessing for all his crimes. That is what Henry IV sought to obtain from the Bishop of Rome, Gregory VII—to bring the Catholic Church to its knees before the Holy Roman Empire.

Let us delve into Gregory’s dogmatic mind.

God established the Church as a bulwark against Adam’s sin. No man is above the Law. No one, neither in Heaven nor on Earth, is above Justice. There is no immunity of any kind from crime. An appeal to the Father before the Judge is of no avail whatsoever. Every creature is subject to the Law.

Immunity becomes the mother of corruption, and its fruit is every kind of crime.

From the greatest man to the least, from the Firstborn to God’s youngest son, every Being is subject to the Law. When we say the Word is God, and the Word is the Word of God, we say that the Word of God is Law. This is why God says in the Book of His Son: “In the beginning was the Word”; and He begins His own account by saying: “God said, and so it was.” And: “Do not eat, for you will die,” and so it was.

Then the Church was brought into being to remind all of us that we all live by the Law. Neither king nor emperor, neither patriarch nor bishop—no one, absolutely no one—stands above the Doctrine of the Only-Begotten Son of God, who, by bending his knees before the Law—not before Satan—made it clear, for all Eternity, before Heaven and Earth, that the Law is God. “Whoever kills shall die.”

There is NO invocation of God, as Father, before the Judge, as Creator.

The Creator's responsibility extends His duty to all the peoples of Creation. His Son's responsibility, as King, is for the peace and well-being of all the citizens of His Kingdom. The Creator and the King, Father and Son, proclaim this responsibility from the Cross of Christ.

This doctrine of universal equality of all the world's citizens before justice is embraced by the Church and passed on to all Christians.

Jesus Christ did not come to abolish the Law; he came to address the causes that lead to crime.

What Henry IV asked of Gregory VII was to abolish the Law, to sign a special decree by which his crown could not be judged by any man, nor even by God Himself—since all his crimes had already been absolved in advance by the Power of Christ.

The Law is Dogma. "YOU SHALL NOT KILL, YOU SHALL NOT STEAL, YOU SHALL NOT BEAR FALSE WITNESS..." are not mere advice; they are Law, the disobedience of which constitutes a crime, and the crime is grounds for punishment.

When the Law did not absolve David's own son—for according to the Law, whoever rose up against the Temple of God in Jerusalem was to be "hung on the cross"—how could Henry IV ask the Servant of God to place his crown, just as Satan sought to place Adam's, beyond the Law!

The Catholic Church is holy because its Head is holy. The holiness of the Catholic priesthood—the image and likeness of the priesthood of Christ, its Lord—can only be disputed by the servants of the Evil Sower.

The Catholic priest is the Body and Blood of Christ among all the peoples of creation. In his doctrine lies the peace and well-being of all citizens of the Kingdom of God.

On the one hand, the logic of an intelligent person is sufficient to discover the root of the Law of Universal Equality of all citizens—in Heaven as on Earth—before Justice and its Law.

And on the other hand: to understand that immunity from the consequences of a crime, granted to a specific association, leads to a proliferation of crimes due to the growth of corruption that such an anomaly engenders in society.

A justice system that acquits one person of the same crime because of their social status, while convicting another of the same crime simply because they do not belong to that association, is a criminal justice system whose proliferation leads the nation thus corrupted to its ruin. This is speaking from a human perspective. From the Perfect Knowledge of God and His Son, such an anomaly leads to the destruction of every people and nation as the Creator's response to such corruption.

We know—because we see it in the life of Holy Mother Catholic Church—that nothing and no one can destroy what God created, except the Creator Himself. Hence the goal sought by the Evil Sower: to divide the House of God in order to bring the power of the law down upon it.

Knowing the Divine Decree: "Every kingdom divided against itself will be destroyed, and every house divided against itself will not stand," the Evil Sower sowed the Tares of Division among the churches, seeking the destruction of what God created by the Creator Himself.

The response of the churches born of that sowing will determine whether they say “YES,” remaining in division, or “NO,” obeying God’s unifying will.

By saying “YES” to division—and because of that “YES”—all of them will be uprooted from the Tree of Life, which is Faith; but by saying “NO” to division, the Mercy of the One who redeemed Adam—based on his ignorance regarding the identity of the “god” who deceived him—opens its arms to those who, deceived by the same Serpent, awaken to the Eternal Obedience in Unity through His Son, as requested during the institution of the Holy Mass.

Then we see that History, written by those who believed themselves to be victors—though they were nothing but losers—gave rise to an Abominable Crime: a king believing himself to be a god, head of a church, whose crimes remain unpunished, for who can condemn a god!

What Henry IV could not achieve—to stand above Divine Justice—Henry VIII achieved by founding a church tailored to his crimes.

Jesus Christ ceased to be the Universal Prototype of Holiness. A son of Satan set himself up as the Holy of Holies.

The question is: If the head is unclean, is not the body also unclean?

PART EIGHT.

THE WORD OF THE SON OF GOD

"If I do not do the works of my Father, do not believe me; but if I do them, even though you do not believe me, believe the works, so that you may know and recognize that the Father is in me and I am in the Father."

I worship my Creator, not for His Strength and Power but for His infinite and eternal Love for Justice, the mother of Peace and Health. Who will deprive me of knowing endless days—these false sages of the Academy of Sciences who, being Nothing, dare to dictate laws to the stars as if they had been traveling among the galaxies for an eternity? Their pride is the noose with which they themselves bind their own necks.

The madness in that pride reveals that they are Nothing, for Nothing is he who serves death and kneels before Satan. God does not exist; God is dead!! And with this they confess: "We are beasts—rational, but beasts." And with this confession, they seek to nullify God's Judgment against the human race.

But if they are beasts, why do they speak?

Fathers, defend your children from the brainwashing machine into which the Academy of Sciences has turned the schools where the human personality is supposed to be formed; in the name of saving the pathological pride of the priests and acolytes of the Religion of Scientific Atheism, they have removed from the horizon of their lives the Image of the Son of God, replacing it with that of a creature in the image and likeness of a slave—the modern worker—a head of cattle led to the slaughterhouse every time the impotence of this century's intellect faces a dead end; there is too much of the human mass, and the globe must rid itself of that surplus mass that destabilizes the economy and the prosperity of the political gods.

"Long live war!!" shout the mass media of the North, on their knees before the power of criminal syndicates that live like gods beyond the reach of justice.

What does the son of Satan from the North do but throw a generation of young people crying out for freedom into the bonfire of war? Anti-Nazi propaganda, pro-Russian interests... lies from children who worship their evil father. First, the Opposition's head is cut off; then the fire is lit, and the Opposition is thrown into the bonfire of the War in Ukraine.

Before this hell broke loose, the son of Satan brought the UN to its knees, demanding a resolution against one state's intervention in the affairs of another. The international trash that is the UN building bent its knees—plenty of gold, a good life of doing nothing—all cowards, pedophiles, and whores. We saw them fleeing from Darfur, from Rwanda; they turn their backs on Nigeria and Kenya; they embrace dictators and theocrats—all manner of murderers are welcome in the UN building.

If Satan is the Master, you have to be on good terms with his demons.

Who will intercede for them before God on the Day of Judgment?

Has God perhaps created a New Creation only to hand it over to the Hell of the madness of this Malignant Religion of Scientific Atheism? If His Judgment is already written against those who claim to be His servants—"Depart from Me, you who practice lawlessness"—what will be His Sentence against those who rob His Creation of its Soul?

They are NOTHING—the blind who claim to reach the boundaries of the cosmos with their eyes, and in their madness swear they have the power to penetrate even the very first nanosecond of the Universe's Origin.

Just as in psychoanalysis, where the healers of the wealthy must first induce a trance in themselves to understand the madmen of the ego, the priests of Scientific Atheism voluntarily throw themselves into the brainwashing machine to emerge from it immaculate—gods oblivious to any awareness of the evil they create. What they cannot resolve simply does not exist; that is their law.

Servants of the industries of Death, sworn enemies of Peace and the Health of Mankind—whoever does not confess their satanic creed: "God does not exist," does not cross the threshold of the Sacred Temple of the Academy of Sciences.

I have made a stronghold in my mouth for the Law of my Creator: "Whoever eats of the fruit of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil shall die." There is no excuse, no justification, no argument that can overturn this Law. "Whoever declares war on his own people, whoever rises up in war against his neighbor, is guilty of death."

The UN's infernal doctrine, imposed by the son of Satan, ties the hands of the forces of peace for the human race. No one must intervene to prevent a state's fratricide against its own people. This is how Syria was destroyed; this is how the youth of Iran are once again being massacred. While young people die, they, in the UN building, celebrate their orgies at the expense of all the nations' people, sending their treasures to their doors so they can continue living like gods in the hell they fuel with their laws.

Aren't Christians being murdered by the thousands in Africa? They are Christians, and they are Black—"let them die" is heard in the hallways of the UN! Because of them, the city that houses it is an abomination in the eyes of God.

I am counting down the seconds remaining for the inhabitants of that House of traitors to the spirit of its Founder.

"This one is no longer of any use. We'll send him to the UN; he can still be of use to us by peddling laws," say the nations that have made the UN the Temple of their New Religion.

I worship God, my Creator, for His Law: "Whoever eats, let him die." Whoever waged war, let him be banished from life. Whoever massacred his own people, let him be banished from the Earth.

Dawn is breaking; the sun of Wisdom is rising; the Day is coming when dictators, perpetrators of genocide, corruptors, theocrats, and thieves of the soul of Man created by God—all will receive the punishment their deeds demand.

They sell out the people and wash their hands of it; they put on the mask of honesty and return to their crimes, to their ministerial lairs from which they plan their thefts and their crimes.

Does God not exist? Does the Earth have no King?

The Word of my King is my life: “Away with you, dogs, sorcerers, cowards, pedophiles, harlots, and every sort of beast that cultivates the accursed tree of Corruption and War. There is no mercy for those who showed no mercy.”

The Mother’s duty is to serve the House of her Lord; the son’s are the sword and armor, the helmet and the axe. Does the Lord not speak with the word of God? Is the Lord no longer the True God of the True God? For whom did God speak when He said to him: “In your old age, Peter, another will take you by the hand Whose hand but that of his Lord’s own Son?”

I exalt the glory of my Creator; naked, I rise to clothe myself in wisdom and understanding, insight and strength, counsel and the fear of God. Does not the fear of losing a father’s love dwell within the true love of a son for his father?

“I have not come to bring peace, but a sword.” A sword against the works of Satan.

When the father is at war, will his son sleep the sleep of cowards?

Death declared war on God. Satan declared war on the Son of God. And will the sons of the King of Heaven and Lord of the Earth sit back and applaud?

Created in the image and likeness of God, will Man remain indifferent to the life of his Creator?

Every man who does not bend his knees before the King will be like dust swept by the wind of the Spirit into the depths of the abyss.

God gave everything—His Son: Peace and Health are His arms; His legs are the breath of our Being, animated by Life.

Outside of His Word, Man does not exist; there is only Nothingness—that Nothingness which has knelt at Satan’s feet and built him a temple, the Academy of Sciences, within whose mental framework one discovers the nullity of the “genius” its pontiffs claim to display—a mere poor copy of the structure of the Catholic Church created by God and His Son.

Wasn’t the Unleashed Devil cunning when, by fanning the flames of hatred toward the Jews, he imposed his model of Ancient Capitalism on Christian civilization? How could he impose Ancient Capitalism without separating the Protestant Branch from the Catholic Trunk!

Rational animals live from day to day; we, the children of God, walk toward the horizon unfolded before our eyes by Wisdom.

What were Luther, Calvin, Zwingli, and Henry VIII if not pawns on the Devil’s chessboard?

What have Descartes, Darwin, Einstein, and company been but pieces in Death’s game against God?

Everything in this world is a Lie except for this Truth: “God Lives.”

That is why, in my youth, I raised my voice to the Son of God: “Lift up my head above the nations of the Earth, and when they see Your Work, may they know that You are God.”
